

Quilts For Empowerment

We teach quilting to impoverished women in Kenya, including obstetric fistula survivors, and young sexual assault survivors. We help women gain the skills and self-confidence to become economically independent and assist the girls to complete their education.

A Journey Toward Wholeness

Join Journey Center community member Christine Fox and Norah Amisi Otondo of Kenya to hear stories about their healing and transformative work with Kenyan women who have suffered from obstetric fistula or sexual assault and as a result have become ostracized from their communities and families. Quilts for Empowerment gives these women a road back to wholeness.

Products the Kenyan women have made will be for sale at the event and at our holiday art show (Nov. 9–Dec. 20) and you may also make a tax-deductible donation to Quilts For Empowerment.
